Juventud, divino tesoro, i ya te vas para no volver! Cuando quiero llorar no lloro, y a veces lloro sin querer... Youth, divine treasure, You have already gone away never to return When I want to cry, I don't cry, and at times I cry without wanting to...

Rubén Dar

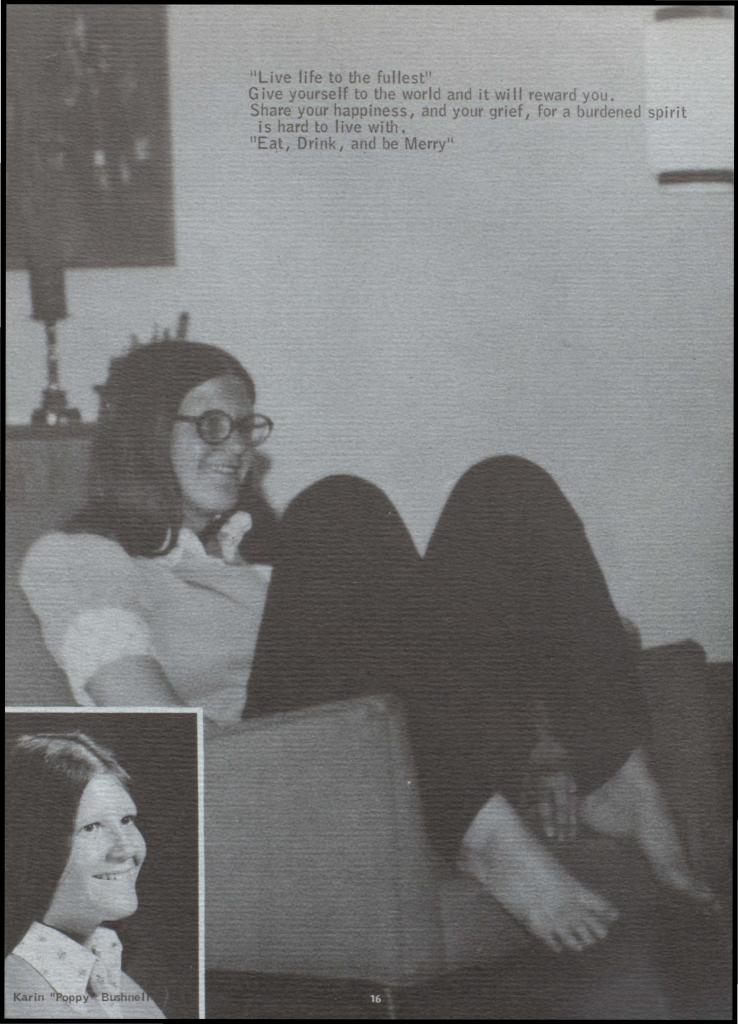

the window at the end of the hall is the extent of my journey look out the window to the vast open space beyond yet I can't reach it no not now some day yes someday soon I'll walk out without the sticky cobweb attached to my back able to pull me back when it wants to I'll walk breathe and let my mind live again it will fill with the wind and beat which will for the first time give birth to my soul my true soul together we will walk we will not ever be held again to the mountains to the sea or to the desert we can go no venomous spider and his web will hold us his web will hold us captive our journey will be endless our knowledge never ceasing love constantly found if only for a mo-ment it will never die we will walk our search neverending for that which is so infinitesimally small and simple

Creep-0

There is one thing I regret not, and that have been born.

I thank the Lord to have experienced all that I have I know not where I'm going in the days to some, but where ever I shall go, may my path not be rocky but smooth, may the light always be shiring, and may my Love for all men last . . .

All that is not too bad - but what's the use? They don't wear breeches. "Of Cannibals" by Michel de Montaigne Ann Davies

I don't think we can hold the chemistry lab much longer. We're running out of dixie cups and the baby ruths. We'd better call up Colonel Sanders for reinforcements. How do you spell Minnie Pearl? We can't get channel 4. What the heck do you expect from us? Ralph Williams sells the same cars every hour.

Tomorrow when we give the dean his bloody nose, our reputations for this year will be secure. But tonight, because of our commitments, we've missed Beach Blanket Bingo on the late show.

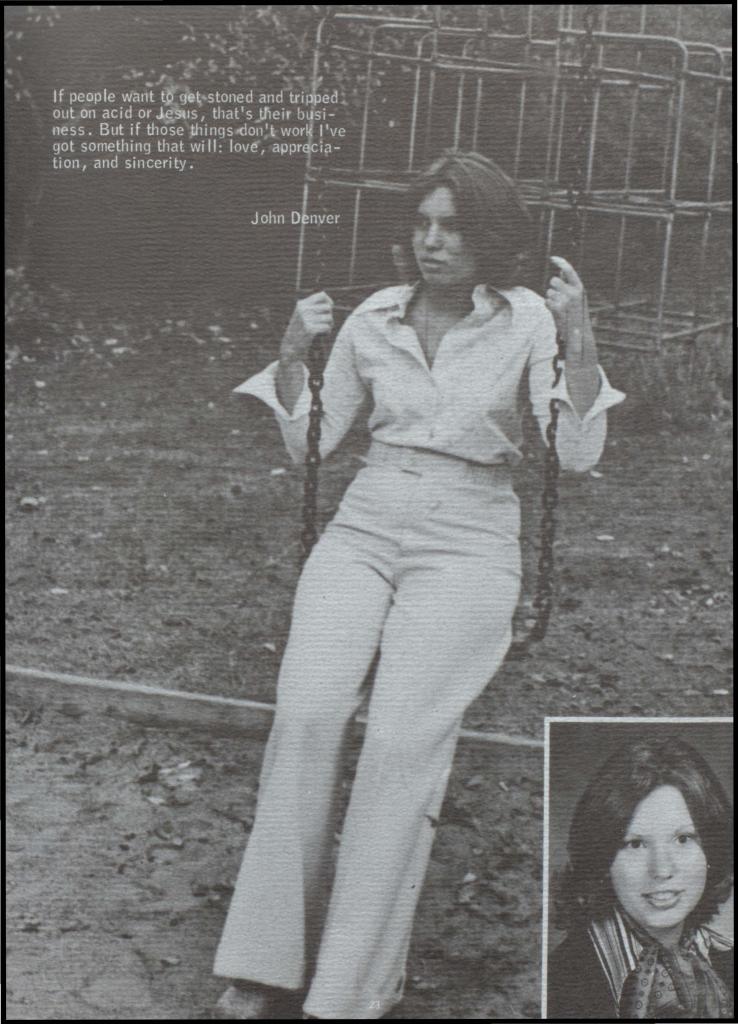

War is Hell.

"I don't know enough," replied the scarecrow cheerfully. "My head is stuffed with straw, you know, and that is why I am going to Oz to ask him for some brains."

"Oh, I see," said the tin woodsman.

"But, after all, brains are not the best things in the world."

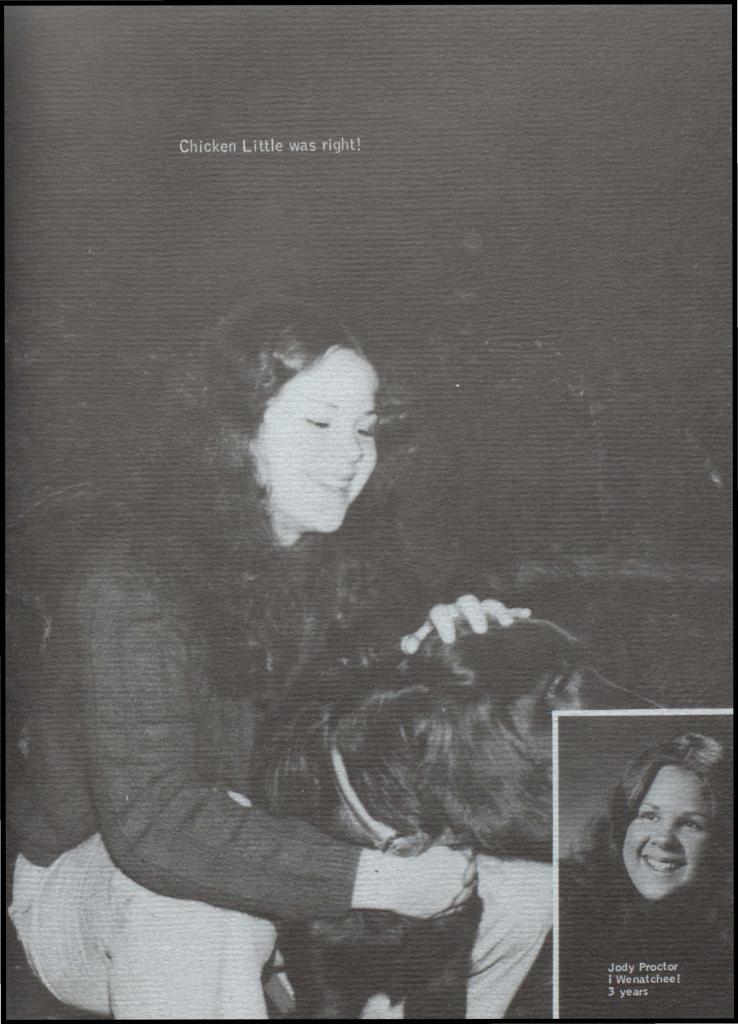

"Have you any?" inquired the scare-

"Have you any?" inquired the scare-

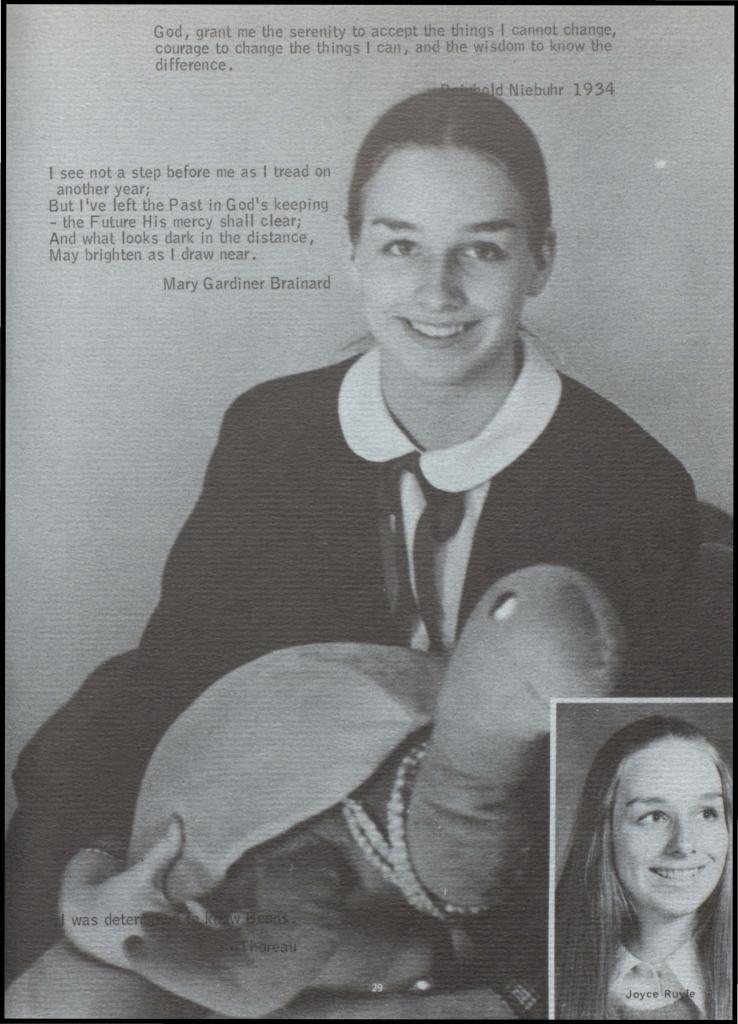

"No, my head is quite empty," answered the woodsman. "But once I had brains, and a heart also; so having tried them both, I should much rather have a heart."
